COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

The law requires that a public meeting be held at least ten days before a town meeting when a Zoning Ordinance is to be amended. Based on requests of interested persons consideration is being given to changing from residential to commercial the southerly side of Railroad Street that is currently zoned as residential. Also an area on both sides of Route 2, northerly of the Androscoggin River bridge, from residential to commercial. A public hearing will be held at Odeon Hall on Wednesday, May 24th at 8 p. m. that all persons interested either in favor of or opposed to these changes in land classification may be appear and present their views.

A special town meeting is being called by the Selectmen on June 7th at which time appropriate articles will appear in the warrant relative to zoning, based on the results of the public hearing. There will also be articles concerning the acceptance of a street and sewer on the Lowell & Blake housing project.

A letter has been received from the State Highway Commission stating that the overhead bridge project is scheduled for advertising in July, which indicates that construction should start in mid-summer.

The position of janitor at the Community Room is open as Ralph Berry has tendered his resignation. Any person interested may make application at the Town Office. This would be a good job for a retired or semi-retired person.

Sincerely,
Harold L. Bean

"Even the finest company reputation for integrity is extremely fragile. The efforts of a few can do great damage, and it will take patient effort to restore what has been lost."—Ralph J. Cordner, Chairman, General Electric Company.

"Leonardo da Vinci, the Florentine Renaissance inventor and artist, developed plans for an underwater warship, but kept them secret. He was afraid it would make war even more frightful than it already was."—The Scope, publication of the Electric Boat Division, General Dynamics, builders of nuclear submarines.

"Our annual sales and earnings statement once again points up a fundamental principle, one that affects everything we do. It is simply this: the employees and owners make money with each other, not out of each other." The Wingfoot Plan, publication of the Good-year Tire & Rubber Co., Windsor, Vt.

"The other night, looking over our young son's arithmetic, we came across this problem: 'If a grocer buys 50 cases of canned beans for $196 and sells them for $250, how much profit does he make?' Despite the book, the answer is not $54. Out of his $54 the grocer has to pay wages and salaries, rent, freight, insurance, taxes. Perhaps he did not make a dime of profit; he could even have lost money."—The Oxford Log, publication of The Oxford Paper Company, Rumford.

Bethel PTA to Honor Mrs. Lurvey

The Bethel Parent-Teachers' Association is sponsoring a "Special Night" on Friday, June 2, at the William Bingham Gym, beginning at 8:00 p. m. to honor Mrs. Olive Lurvey who is retiring from the teaching profession at the end of this school year.

When she closes her books and says to her class, "Class dismissed!", she will be bringing to an end nearly forty years of faithful, devoted, and useful service in the school systems of this area. By the most conservative estimates, this means that she has played an important part in the shaping of the life and character of more than 1,000 students.

We invite you to be present on this honoring occasion to add your personal tribute to a true veteran of the teaching profession.

GOULD ACADEMY

Maine Teachers Association
Scholastic Award

Ann M. Ordway, a senior at Gould Academy, will receive a trophy for scholastic excellence in an award program at Colby College, Waterville, Saturday, May 27. She is one of 70 Maine high school seniors placed on the Highest Honor Roll of the Maine Teachers Association as a result of outstanding performance in College Entrance Examination Board tests.

Miss Ann M. Ordway

The trophy will be awarded following a banquet at Colby. The winners will be addressed by Professor Herbert R. Brown of Bowdoin College.

Miss Ordway is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Newell C. Ordway of Kittery, Maine. She is valedictorian of her graduating class and has been active in the following during her two years at Gould: a member of the Girls Athletic Association Council, a cheerleader both junior and senior years, a member of the outing club (secretary, senior year), a member of the USEASA National Junior Alpine ski team for both junior and senior years, Captain of the girls' ski team at Gould (senior year), played hockey and tennis, a member of the Editorial Staff of the Gould year book her junior year, co-editor of the school newspaper in her senior year, and a member of the French Club both junior and senior years. She was a Carnival Queen Candidate this year, and was elected to the National Honor Society.

Miss Ordway will be eligible to apply for one of the 10 $300 scholarships that will be awarded, to Highest Honor students, by the MTA at the end of their first college semester.

The Honor Roll was established by the MTA to highlight academic accomplishment and to bring to good students the same recognition that is accorded to athletes.

"The Pirates of Penzance" will be presented May 20th at the William Bingham Gymnasium.

As the story goes, Frederick is a young boy who was supposed to be indentured to pirates, but by the mistake of his nurse he was indentured to pirates instead. All the pirates are now living on an island, which, unknown to them, is also occupied by a Major-General Stanley and his daughters. Frederick's nurse, Ruth, is the only woman he has ever seen, and now that he is almost 21 and free of his indentures, he tries to persuade him to remain with the pirates and marry her.

While out walking one day, the pirates come upon the Major-General's daughters and wish to marry them. The Major is very upset, especially when Frederick falls in love with his daughter, Mabel. Since he knows that all the pirates, and are therefore sympathetic toward all other orphans, he pretends that he himself is an orphan. Out of pity, the pirates agree to leave him and his daughters alone.

Meanwhile a police ship has landed on the island, and since he will soon be no longer a pirate, Frederick decides to lead the police against the pirates. This is when he finds out that, because he was born on leap year, he isn't twenty-one at all, but only five, and therefore is still a pirate. He tells Mabel, and everyone is sad.

Then the police attack the pirates and are defeated by them. Then they demand that the pirates surrender in the

METHODIST YOUTH FELLOWSHIP

After the secretary's and treasurer's reports had been read and accepted, we took up new business. The only subject under new business was the Youth Council meeting which will be held in the annex this coming Friday, May 19, at 7:30 p. m. The purpose of this meeting is to make our policy for next year and to take suggestions from our advisors as to what project we should undertake next year.

Under old business we chose chaperones for our next two dances which will be our last until school begins again. On May 19th, this coming Friday, we are having our last dance for the 4th, 5th, and 6th grades. On May 26th we are having the last dance for the 7th and 8th grades. It will be an all hits dance, a great selection of refreshments will be sold, it will be from 7 to 10 p. m. We hope to see all you 7th and 8th graders there!

For a discussion we talked about curfews and whether or not we thought Bethel needed one. Most of us concluded that Bethel didn't need a curfew because our parents make our own curfews. The discussion next Sunday will be led by Julia Brown and Matthew Brooks. — Respectfully submitted, Steve Dock.

EVENING EXTENSION GROUP MET MAY 9th

The Bethel Evening Extension Group met at the Home Economics Cottage on Tuesday, May 9th. The business meeting was called to order by Chairman, Mrs. Gibson. The Secretary's report was read and approved. It was voted to send two dollars to the 4-H delegate to help with expenses. Mrs. Valentine very generously donated an additional dollar to make the total $3.00.

The program for next year was discussed. Suggestions were in order and several were offered by various members. Mrs. DeCoteau led the meeting on "Family Life." Her talk on this subject was supplemented by slides. Her excellent presentation was followed by a discussion period.

name of the queen. Surprisingly, they do, but are pardoned by the Major-General. He then offers his daughters in marriage to the pirates, and all live happily ever after.

Gould Entertains South Paris Friday

Although each game is important, Gould will be having one of its toughest assignments here on Friday, and this game with the Cardinals looms more important to the league-leading Huskies. Gould looked strong last week as they came up with three well-played games and three victories. The Academy nine defeated Fryeburg Academy 6-2 on Wednesday and 6-3 on Saturday in two non-league games. On Friday, the team went on a slug-fest as they avenged their only defeat by romping over Norway 15-4. This victory put the Bethel nine out in front in the Western Maine Conference.

This Paria-Gould game should be one well-worth seeing. Game time on Alumni Field will be 3:30 p. m.

Maine Ski Council

Eight western Maine skiers were cited by the Maine Ski Council at the MSC annual meeting at Hallowell.

The Gould Academy ski team received the Council Award as the outstanding scholastic ski team in the state. The Gould squad, coached by Paul Bailey, won the Maine and New England interscholastic championships during the recent season and had three team members on the USEASA team which competed in the National Junior Alpine Championships.

Ann M. Ordway, of Kittery, a senior at Gould, also a member of the USEASA Junior Team, received the award as Maine's outstanding interscholastic girl competitor. In addition to top placings in scholastic events, she won the Girls' Class I Giant Slalom race during the annual Sugarloaf Skiweek.

FHA Elects 1961-62 Officers

They are as follows: President, Loretta Blake; Vice President, Linda Nickerson; Secretary, Caroline Poland; Treasurer, Melanie Bernier; Historian, Josephine Foster; Parliamentarian, Freda Bennett; Public Relations Chairman, Ellen Brown; Social and Recreation Chairman, Sandra Hatch.

THE AMERICAN WAY

DON'T KILL 14-B!

By Maurice R. Franks
(EDITOR'S NOTE: Maurice R. Franks is President of the National Labor - Management Foundation and Editor of its official publication, PARTNERS.)

In my last article, I wrote of the importance of Section 14(b) of the Taft-Hartley Act which permits the individual States to ban compulsory unionism. In this article I pursue that subject further.

I exhort the voters to remind their Congressmen that Section 14(b) of the Taft-Hartley law, as it presently stands, symbolizes the dignity of man just as truly and just as fully as did the voting booths in every election district throughout the land last November when, in all dignity, individual Americans from every walk of life cast their secret, protected ballots and by their composite decisions put the 87th Congress together.

If the picture of unionism as it presents itself in the public today is one of unholy arrogance at war with the rest of society, it is not because the American worker is arrogant and determined to browbeat his neighbor, it is because compulsory unionism has given labor leaders numerical and financial strength on a silver platter—as some kind of outside reward for simply being labor leaders.

The union leaders certainly have not gone out and earned their power and prestige by selling themselves and their union principles on their merits. They haven't competed with each other in excellence, in service, in statesmanship. They haven't inspired rank-and-file craftsmen and industrial workers to fall over tables and chairs in a mad rush to join up. Not at all. With the closed and so-called "union shop" to support their charters, they have merely stood at various employment sites and cracked their whips and herded the workers, like so many serfs, into their unions. To work, to eat, to live—to continue to hold down such and such a job—a worker must pay tribute to the union boss. He must have a card. He must pay his dues.

No wonder, then, that so many of our top labor leaders are bullies. And no wonder they have to have compulsory unionism in order to stay in business! No wonder they look upon each State's right-to-work law as a road block to personal aggrandizement! No wonder they come before Congress with anarcho voices and pounding fists and demand that the Taft-Hartley law be amended so that no State hereafter shall have the right to ban compulsory unionism! Because they haven't had to sell unionism on its merits for so many years—and let me remind one and all that good unionism has plenty of merit and can be sold!—our American labor leaders have let the product deteriorate to the point where it stinks to high heaven and to the point where no self-respecting candidate for membership wants anything to do with it.

This sound incredible? Well, it isn't so incredible when we stop to realize that over the past ten years, while the labor force of this nation has been increased by 10 solid million, mind you, union membership has been actually declining! All of which indicates that in new areas of employment as yet not organized on a compulsory basis and in States where compulsory unionism is not permitted there has been the very opposite of a popular rush to join up. And actually, were all unionism, throughout our 50 states, to be put on a strictly voluntary basis, it seems like a sure bet that membership in the labor movement would drop considerably—to the point where the dictators in the House of Labor would have to quit being dictators and instead get out and do some honest work.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to thank each person who has in any way helped me over the past years and especially during the weeks since January of my mother's illness, her hospitalization, and since her return home. Mother and I wish to thank those who have brought in flowers; those who have sent in food; those who have run errands; and the Circles of the Congregational Church for the cards and baskets; and those who remembered my mother with Easter, birthday and get well cards. All this has been greatly appreciated.

DR. FRANK BARTON HONORED BY B. U.

Friends who remember Rev. Frank E. Barton, who was pastor of the Bethel Universalist Church for about 10 years at the turn of the century, will be interested in the honor recently accorded his son by Boston University. The following is taken from the Gloucester, Mass., Daily Times:

ROCKPORT — A Rockport man has been named "outstanding medical alumnus of the year" by the Boston University School of Medicine Alumni Association. He is Dr. Frank E. Barton, assistant professor of clinical surgery at the B. U. School of Medicine.

Dr. Barton is a trustee of Boston University and served for two years as president of the B. U. Alumni Association. He resided in Rockport for years until he moved to West Newton.

Mrs. Agnes Barton Haskell of 14 Pleasant Street, a minister in the Church of Truth, is his sister.

Dr. Barton was graduated from Gloucester High School, University of Maine and Boston University Medical School.

He is the son of Rev. Frank E. Barton and Frances (Fogg) Barton.

Dr. Barton's father was at one time pastor of the Rockport Universalist Church. For 10 years he was superintendent of Universalist churches in Maine.

est selling. Which, obviously, wouldn't be a bad move at all! But at least, the situation is one which explains the labor leaders' present desperation, their fear that the right-to-work principle will be enacted into law in other States as well, or that ever larger segments of organized industries will "run away" and "escape" from States where compulsory unionism is a continuing evil to States where it is banned. And it also explains why it is so vital to American democracy and to the human rights that our democracy is supposed to guarantee that the line be held against further encroachment and ruthless high-jacking of those human rights by a small and hard-boiled fraternity of labor barons.

Therefore—as citizens interested in the welfare of our economy and the dignity of the individuals who serve it—let us communicate in no uncertain terms with our Senators and Congressmen, and in fullness of heart and sincerity of belief, tell them straight from the shoulder: DON'T KILL 14-B!

They say a college degree can add $100,000 to a young man's lifetime income. That should cover the appeals for money he'll get as an alumnus. —Changing Times.

COUNTRY FLAVOR

APPLE BLOSSOM TIME

There is beauty on the green hillsides these May days as apple trees open pink buds and shake out white petals. Behind old farmhouses, a few Porters, Pippins, Garden Royals, August Sweeties and Russets break their buds, and a countryman going out at dawn with milkpail on arm, thinks of the fresh applesauce and tangy, juicy pies that will accompany his noon dinner come late August.

It is fitting that the apple is a relative of the rose, strawberry and blackberry. What the rose is to all other flowers, the apple is to all other fruits. It is the most popular fruit in the temperate zone. More than 15,000 names of varieties, strains and sub-strains have been collected.

MAGAZINE PREDICTS NEED FOR SONIC BOOM PROTECTION

For most people today, a sonic boom is a novelty. Before long it may be all too commonplace, according to the editors of Changing Times, the Kiplinger Magazine. A copyrighted article in the current issue of the magazine includes a brief review of the Oklahoma City incident in 1956 when sonic booms resulting from an air show caused an estimated $250,000 of damage—largely in broken windows and split plaster walls.

"At that time, the insurance companies were almost as confused as the home-owners," the editors state. "Since then, some—not all—of the mechanical and legal questions have been answered."

The new military jets are capable of sustained supersonic speeds in level flight, the editors explain. As they pass over the "Mach 1" mark (the speed of sound at a given altitude), a continuous shock wave flows behind them in the form of a cone trailing from the bow and tail. "How much of that sonic boom hits the ground, and what injury it inflicts, depends upon many factors, such as altitude, wind, temperature and barometric pressure. Given one set of factors, the boom is just a nuisance. Given another set, it can break your windows, or worse."

Although the insurance industry has not clarified all the issues involved, this much is clear, according to the article: Sonic boom is covered by the Homeowners Policy in Forms 2, 3, 4, and 5, but not in Homeowners Form 1, which is akin to fire and extended coverage.

Some claims have been paid under the extended coverage endorsement that is commonly added to the conventional fire policy, but the trend is to exclude this from the "EC" endorsement.

A fire and EC policy can be built up to take care of sonic boom loss by purchasing either a Dwelling Building and Contents Broad Form or Dwelling Building Special Form endorsement.

So far, the editors note, demand for sonic boom protection has not been widespread. But more and more high-speed fighters are in operation, the new supersonic B-50 attack bomber is aloft and, most sobering of all, supersonic commercial transports are in prospect for the next decade.

MAINE 4-H CLUBS BOOST MEMBERSHIP

Maine young people were enrolled in 688 more 4-H Club projects on May 1 than a year earlier. Total enrollment had reached 11,003.

That's the report of Kenneth C. Lovejoy, state 4-H club leader for the Cooperative Extension Service at the University of Maine.

Lovejoy also said that some 2,430 young people enrolled in the 4-H electric project carried on Maine TV stations.

Penobscot County led the State in the number of 4-H club project enrollments with 1,311. Following were Somerset, Oxford, Cumberland, Knox-Lincoln, Franklin, and Central Aroostook Counties.

Penobscot, Washington, and Somerset Counties had the largest increases in 4-H enrollment over last year. Other counties with increases included Northern and Southern Aroostook, Franklin, Hancock, Oxford and Waldo.

Leaders in boys' 4-H enrollment were Penobscot, Somerset, Oxford, Cumberland, and York Counties.

Four-H club work is open to all Maine young people 9 to 21 years of age, Lovejoy said. Local information on 4-H Clubs is available from 4-H club agents at county offices of the Cooperative Extension Service.

Chadbourne Plants Pine on 150 Acres

The Chadbourne tree planting operation this year will cover 150 acres of Soil Bank land in Bethel and Gilead. At the rate of 1,000 to 1,200 trees to the acre, some 180,000 two and three year old seedlings will be placed this year. The work is handled with modern equipment in accordance with forest policy.

The project this season is located on the former Burris field (formerly Bennett, Morrell, Jordan or A. S. Bean), and on the former Luxton intervals (the one-time Gilman Bean farm), at West Bethel, and on the former Fred A. Wight fields on the north side of the river in Gilead.

To recognize ideas as dangerous—and to face the danger—is the mark of a free man and of a free society.—Charles A. Siepmann.

You spent $450,000,000 on bowling last year

13½ times as much as you gave to fight cancer

Shocking? Yes. And here's another shocking fact: over the years, cancer strikes in approximately two out of three American homes.

Go bowling. It's fun. Enjoy yourself. But when you spend fifty cents to knock down pins—give as much to the American Cancer Society—to knock out cancer.

If you do that, you will be giving $450,000,000 to fight cancer this year. Thirteen and a half times as much as last year!
